

Why have we created great pain and great joy?

Does one create the other?

It could be said that without one there could not be the other.

War and peace.

Is there any difference.

One follows the other.

We seeking but the end of our tail

As we swallow ourselves.

AS THE SNAKE SWOLLOWS IT'S TAIL

Once devoured what remains?

Is it what we were forever seeking?

Eternal nothing.

No pain

No joy

No war

No peace
